Presented by the Students of
AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE
DECATUR, GEORGIA

Our years at Agnes Scott have guided us down a path illumined by virtue, faith, and knowledge to the gateway which opens into a life and environment completely different. To walk these paths worthily we need the social, physical, academic, and spiritual development we have found at Agnes Scott, as well as a mind unfettered and free. These things will guide us and help us to make a life beyond the gateway that is bright and full. So long as life and, thus, memory exist, the moment of highest meaning will be our passage through the gateway to a life. For the steps leading to this moment we present the 1957 Silhouette.

DEDICATION

Because places reflect the people who make them what they are and because people we love reveal to us the spirit of the places they have helped to create, his presence will always be an inseparable part of the life of our college. In his positions as Professor, Counselor, Dean of the Faculty, and Registrar, his leadership and service for forty-four years have shown us the true meaning of the intellectual and spiritual ideals which we value. When time obliterates the problems that we brought to him and the jokes we shared, his laughter will voice itself in our hearts, and his love and loyalty will shine before us like a star. In a spirit of love, we dedicate this—the 1957 Silhouette—to . . .

A TRIBUTE

George Winship

On June 20, 1956, Agnes Scott College felt a deep loss at the death of George Winship. A leader in community and church affairs, he served wholeheartedly as chairman of the Board of Trustees for eighteen years. His greetings to students each September and participation in Commencement exercises each June added the touch of his warm personality to many years. Under his leadership the Trustees succeeded in campaigns which more than tripled the assets of the college. To the memory of a man of great faith, fine ability, and strong character, we, the students who appreciated him, pay tribute.

Wallace McPherson Alston

PRESIDENT

As president of Agnes Scott College, Dr. Alston does much more than the position requires. He finds time not only for college affairs but also for individuals, as a wise and interested friend. The principles by which he directs the college and its members become firmly fixed in each of us as a way of life.

Samuel Guerry Stukes

DEAN OF THE FACULTY

If each of us had a "This Is Your Life" day, Dr. Stukes would be a part of it, as he guides, helps, and just plain listens to or laughs with us over our problems and experiences. As Dean of Faculty, he co-ordinates student-faculty relationships, but as an individual he provides intangibles in the life of the entire campus community.

Miss Carrie Scandrett

DEAN OF THE STUDENTS

Miss Carrie Scandrett, our popular Dean of Students, embodies all the grace, charm, and intellectual background that Agnes Scott seeks to instill in all its students. Because of her interest in each individual girl at Scott, her influence in her capacity as advisor, counselor, and friend is felt throughout the college community. Indeed, Miss Scandrett is a guiding force in all the activities in our college life.

ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

Annual birthday greetings to each student, an open door, and a friendly smile are indicative of the warmth, courtesy and sincere interest found in the President's office. Every type of letter, announcement, or statement for the college passes through capable hands with amazing speed and effectiveness in this office.

JAMES ROSS MCCAIN
President, Emeritus

REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

The incoming Freshmen are always the people who are best acquainted with the staff in the registrar's office; but all of us realize both their existence and importance when we fail to turn in our course cards before the deadline.

DORMITORY SUPERVISION

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Wynn, aided by their staff, make our dorms "a home away from home." Their work is doubly appreciated after the holidays when we return to freshly cleaned rooms. The weekly laundry lists also show our dependence upon their efficient system.

NIGHT WATCHMAN

As we walk about the campus at night, we often meet the night watchmen and, later as we finish our papers due at 8:30 a.m., we hear the echo of their steady footsteps in the darkness outside. These, our guardians, are equal to any emergency from directing traffic to protecting the dorms.

M. VIRGINIA TUGGLE
College Physician

INFIRMARY

Be it an appendectomy or just a common cold, Dr. Tuggle and her staff are always concerned and anxious about each girl's well-being. Unlike most college infirmaries, ours is not a lonely and impersonal place, but rather a warm and friendly place where even little extras such as ginger-ale are not forgotten.

DEAN'S OFFICE

The efficiency of the dean's office staff is admirable; these people know all the rules and have the necessary information at their fingertips. However, when we leave Agnes Scott, we will remember not their efficiency but their warmth, kindness and eagerness to help us. We will remember them as our friends.

ART

Freshmen sketching the campus, upper classmen proudly displaying enamels and ceramics—these are products of our art department. The gallery collections exhibit the works of students, instructors, contemporary and classical artists, which are always of great value and interest to the community. Broadening our scope of opportunities also are the lecturers such as Lamar Dodd, who spoke to us on "Cameras and Design."

SPEECH

Speech courses at Agnes Scott are a vital aspect of the English department's curriculum. Through the study of public speaking, reading, the techniques of play production, history of the theatre, and interpretation of drama the student finds a broad challenge in this field. A favorite among students, the department offers one a thrilling experience of actual growth and improvement.

CLASSICS

Through a study of the classical languages and literature, the Agnes Scott student acquires a valuable background for the liberal arts education she is seeking. With a knowledge and appreciation of the classics, she builds a solid and lasting foundation for modern studies.

ELIZABETH GOULD ZENN
Associate Professor of Classical Languages and Literature

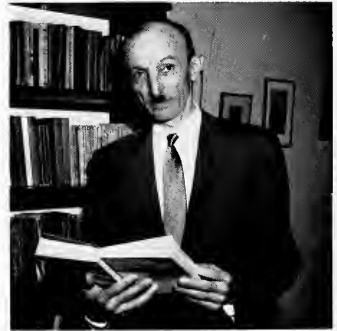

MARY VIRGINIA ALLEN
Assistant Professor of French

MARGARET BLAND SEWELL
Instructor in French

FRENCH

With its slightly Southern inflection, the well-known "Bon Jour" is always a popular greeting on the Agnes Scott campus. Students' wide-spread interest in the French language is a result of interesting instructors and excellent training provided in reading and speaking the language, as well as a comprehensive study of the country itself.

SPANISH

With an emphasis on a broad knowledge of the written and spoken language, and the customs of another people, the Spanish Department at Agnes Scott offers comprehensive courses in grammar, literature and speech to its students.

MELISSA ANNIS CILLEY
Assistant Professor of Spanish

MURIEL HARN
Professor of German and Spanish

GERMAN

Beginners in the study of German soon find themselves absorbed in an interesting language which, as they advance, leads them into the great German classics. The Course is highlighted by a study of Goethe and the Faust legend.

FAITH AND REASON

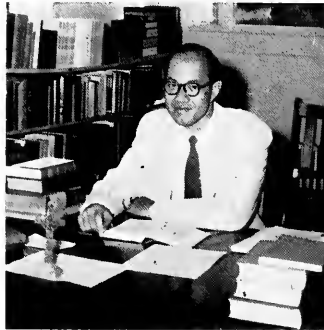

BIBLE

Our Agnes Scott ideal emphasizes a strong Christian faith. New and old beliefs become even more strongly based as the knowledge we gain in our Bible classes about the origins and development of our religion gives us a firmer grasp on faith and leads us into new and broader fields of Christian living.

MARY LILY BONEY
Assistant Professor of Bible

SOCIOLOGY AND ECONOMICS

By providing a comprehensive analysis of the economic and social problems found within and without each community, the Department of Economics and Sociology gives students a practical interpretation and application of theory. Emphasis on current events through a program of interesting field trips and guest speakers makes each student aware of the importance of her place in today's society.

EDUCATION

Because of the increasing interest of Agnes Scott students in the teaching profession, the Education Department was separated from the Psychology Department and established in its own right in 1955. Through a practice-teacher program in cooperation with the Atlanta public schools, it plays an important role in the training of future teachers.

THE SENIOR CLASS

All through the years, the things that will remain
A hockey game, a book we loved, and springtime rain.
That romance we had our freshman year
The carols and goodwill
When Christmas time is near—
These are the things that always will remain.

All through the years, within our memory.
We will return to walk these paths and be with thee—
Passing friends, the way we used to do
We'll hear the same "hello"—
We'll know the dream is true—
These are the things that always will remain.

CLASS HISTORY

Fall of 1956 was the beginning of our big year—seniors at last! The tower of Main was pointing up through the trees and the sun was bright on the quadrangle when we came back to the Sheltering Arms—ready to assume the responsibilities of seniorhood. The first Saturday saw us dressed in bermudas with ruffled yellow and white caps and aprons, balancing trays as we served the freshmen breakfast in bed. Later, we had a Sunday afternoon coffee for freshmen and faculty members in the Hub.

WHO'S WHO

Investiture weekend came in November. Instead of Little Girls' Day, which was rather out of shape, we felt, we had Big Girls' Day. We met for breakfast in our black robes—special senior garb—but with many added gewgaws, scarves, pins, outlandish hats, and tennis shoes. The morning was fun and so was the chapel skit which Pan and Helen planned. In our robes and Sunday hats we were all on the stage, "alumnae" at a class reunion ten years hence.

The senior dry cleaning project continued to do good business, with Dannie, Margie Hill, and Anne Terry as agents. Our treasury was increasing, being put aside for future use.

When spring came, we dined out with our major professors, made wedding plans, did practice teaching, finished up independent study, and generally relaxed after the juniors had taken over our leadership responsibilities. On May Day we admired our seniors in the court—May Queen Cemille, Maid of Honor Sis, and representatives Nancy, Jackie, and Frazer.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

CLASS HISTORY

From the "Jaunty Junior" in the summer months to the growing sparkle of diamond dust from September to May, the Class of '58 was its own lively self. Added to the rah-rah glow of its Sophomore accomplishments was its new air of purpose and competence.

Thanks to that new Junior look and the ASC rings, the friends of Sponsees mistook some Sponsors for Seniors. Not a single Junior complained. Nor were there any longings for the good old days when, as Juniors, social engagements really proved to be unlimited, and when there were opportunities to help out by chaperoning.

The Juniors swept the Sweepstakes on Black Cat Day and had a wonderful time tipping those red top hats to the Freshmen, even though the song went the way of many a song—it was good, but it didn't win. Undaunted, the Juniors remained a class that sang upon all occasions.

THE 1957 JUNIOR CLASS

The hockey team fought it out, especially with the Sophs, on crisp Friday afternoons. And the sister Freshmen won the Hallowe'en Swimming Meet! The Juniors, last—and loyal, stormed the Frosh dorms with sweets and song. Then came basketball, archery, badminton, tennis, softball, ping-pong, Blue Horses—the Juniors "always competing."

The Juniors were culturally inclined as well. Concerts and the spring series with the "Met" delighted the musically-minded. Lecture Association brought a stimulating variety of visitors to the campus. Glee Club, Aurora. Blackfriars and all the other campus organizations offered different opportunities for expression and enjoyment.

THE 1957 JUNIOR CLASS

The seasons brought traditional events. Big Girls' Day wasn't the harrowing experience that past Juniors had undergone on Little Girls' Days.

Investiture was for Juniors a solemn promise of days to come. Sharp winds and Christmas, cold snaps and March holidays, mercurial weather and Easter, spring and May Day, and Juniors through it all.

The Juniors were willing to declare that no Junior Banquet was like theirs. And no new Mortar Board chapter was ever quite like the one chosen from among the Class of 1958. The elections saw Juniors being chosen to prepare for the leadership of 1957-58, the responsibility of following a great class of Seniors.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

There is a college campus where peace and joy abound,
Where laughter gay in work or play within each heart is found;
As students we are loyal to ideals that we hold—
We care, we share, we are aware of Christ within each soul!

Our memories we cherish and through the years recall
The feeling when we gain new friends through Winter, Spring and Fall;
So, our dear school we honor with ever thankful praise
For ideals gained and love-filled days
From life at Agnes Scott.

CLASS

"When those Sophomores hit the field"—the class of 1959, beginning its Sophomore year in September of 1956, arrived back at Agnes Scott one hundred and sixty strong. After a full and rewarding summer which had been recorded in the "Soph-Scotter," most of the Sophomores moved into Walters Hall, the campus palace.

The Sophomores proved that they were a singing class right off the bat! On their first night they serenaded the Freshmen dorms to welcome the new Scotties. A few days later the Freshmen were guests on a Heavenly Cloud in the gym when many Sophomore angels entertained them with singing, food, and a skit.

HISTORY

Black Cat night produced the "59ers" conception of a Polar Bear convention and — the winning class song: "There Is a College Campus," original in words and music. The recording of "The Song" and three other Agnes Scott favorites became an official project, and the class cooperated in making the recording a success.

The Class of '59 did well in sports, having good participation and class support. It placed second in the swimming meet and ended a fluctuating season of hockey in third place.

CLASS

The Sophomores successfully undertook several projects (in their spare time?). The Student Directory is traditionally a Sophomore project and theirs was finished and delivered before Christmas. Another very helpful project was the class file, which was an effort to record the class's responsibilities and to put every Sophomore to work during the year. The "Sunshine Committee" wished Sophomores "Happy Birthday" and did other thoughtful things during the year.

Sophomores put their hearts and pocket-books into the 1957 Junior Jaunt. With projects like "The Sophomore Salon" where they rubbed tired backs and lifted low spirits with a bright coat of nail polish, and a skit by their friends the EΣ's they helped to raise money for the charities.

HISTORY

Members of the Class of '59 were active in all the various campus organizations. (Incidentally, five Sophomores were sweethearts of Tech and Emory fraternities.)

The Sophomore year was a good year; a year of growing friendships and loyalties, of seeking and thinking, of growth and stretching, of new ideas and big dreams; it was a year for which to be grateful!

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

CLASS HISTORY

Can it be that the Freshman year, that first mystical year of English papers and college men, looked forward to for so long, is now over? Why, it was only yesterday that amid the flood of letters from unknown Scotties, the Frosh began packing and planning for the year ahead. But now it's a year gone by, and although English papers and college men are still something of a mystery, the wonderful memories are very much a reality.

Who will forget . . . those days of orientation, proudly walking around with a number 160 name tag, until the realization came that it was like golf, where the low number won . . . the first conference with the Miss Scandrett . . . embarrassingly introducing a wonderful Junior Sponsor as a Sophomore Helper . . . the fun of "Oh! You're from 'Dogpatch.'" I bet you know" . . . or the first Scottie party given by the Sophomores.

The Freshman class had no sooner caught their breath and calmly settled down to fraternity rush parties, lectures, and frantic note taking, when Black Cat arrived; and after long debates on whether or not "we came" or "we come" to you, they very proudly presented a second-place song.

CLASS HISTORY

The Frosh's own Sixty Club, a second-place hockey team, and a first-place swimming team were organized. By now Freshmen were well accustomed to their refined, quiet, studious dorm living, their roomies knew their life history, and one day, some one discovered the library right behind the Hub—imagine!

CLASS HISTORY

Thanksgiving holidays came, and after being reassured that nothing had changed at home, they returned to more Class Meetings . . . their new and most welcome Freshmen privileges . . . beautiful pins and cold showers ("Love is a many-splendored thing") . . . and finally their first set of college exams. "No sweat" was the advice, but as usual, who followed advice?

CLASS HISTORY

Then, after those long-awaited Christmas holidays, came Winter Quarter (as they say it always does). But it wasn't so bad; beautiful Cotillion Dance started things off in a whirl . . . the sun even came out one day . . . and besides, they were now second-quarter Freshmen. And ah! Who has anything but fond memories of the research paper: all the lovely magazines . . . the stacks . . . those adorable little note cards . . . all such fun! But then before they knew it, the Frosh were rushing to elect class faculty sponsors and to choose their mascot Peanuts before Winter Quarter exams arrived.

CLASS HISTORY

Now Spring Quarter is over . . . with the Frosh's first dogwood season . . . more pins and as always those dear, dear long distance phone calls . . . May Day . . . representatives in the Beauty Section . . . and the sudden realization that they are almost Sophomores, with three social engagements a week awaiting them. But the Freshmen realize that there are many more wonderful things ahead. But nothing will ever be like this year, their first year as Scotties.

AGNES SCOTT STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

AS A MEMBER OF THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION OF AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE, I CONSIDER MYSELF BOUND BY HONOR TO DEVELOP AND UPHOLD HIGH STANDARDS OF HONESTY AND BEHAVIOR; TO STRIVE FOR FULL INTELLECTUAL AND MORAL STATURE; TO REALIZE MY SOCIAL AND ACADEMIC RESPONSIBILITY IN THE COMMUNITY. TO ATTAIN THESE IDEALS, I DO HEREBY ACCEPT THIS HONOR SYSTEM AS MY WAY OF LIFE.

COOPERATION

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student Government Officers: Penny Smith, President; Jo Sawyer, Student Recorder; Marian McCall, Secretary; Nancy Grayson, Treasurer; Margaret Minter, Vice-President; Judicial Chairman.

The Student Government Association here at Agnes Scott College is made up of units working as a whole for the betterment of the community — Representative Council, Administrative Council, and Executive Committee. These groups discussed the problems and activities of the campus, advised the leaders of the student body, improved the regulations and tried cases of their infractions.

The orientation program sponsored by Student Government introduced the Freshmen to the Agnes Scott way of life, and the Honor Emphasis Week made it more real and personal to all of us.

Lower House Officers: Phia Peppas, Treasurer; Nancy Holland, Chairman; and Libby Hanna, Secretary.

LOWER HOUSE

Lower House, with its membership taken from each dorm and cottage on campus, played an important part in the community life of the college. As it worked to give Student Government and the student body a closer relationship, projects, such as those fire drills at uncivilized hours and phone co-op, made their presence felt by everyone. At Christmas Lower House, after a fascinating skit and party, presented the campus with a new sewing machine to be placed in the Hub. Through activities such as these, Lower House plays an increasingly vital role in our college life each year.

C. A. ACTIVITIES

With the theme, "Be aware, Care, Share . . . for the love of Christ constraineth us," C. A. has worked to help each student grow in her Christian faith through sponsoring Tuesday chapels, hall prayers, Sunday meditation vespers, community service projects, and informal discussions.

Freshmen encountered C. A. for the first time at the Fall "Alice in Wonderland" picnic, and took an active part in the organization through the widely popular '60 Club. On October 30 and 31, C. A. sponsored afternoon workshops for training students interested in helping with the community service projects.

Winter Quarter brought Dr. Warner L. Hall, minister of Covenant Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, N. C., who led the campus in Religious Emphasis Week with the theme: "The Relevance of the Christian Faith." Personal Devotions Week was a follow-up to R. E. Week.

Outstanding during Spring Quarter were the Holy Week Programs and the freshman spring picnic.

Throughout the school year, C. A.'s Community Service Projects revealed a deeper meaning for Agnes Scott students in the motto, "Be Aware, Care, Share," and gave them an opportunity for an active, vital expression of their Christian faith. The varied program of projects included Hillside Cottages, headed by Suzanne McMillan; Methodist Children's Home, Kay Wilson; Juvenile Court, Dannie Reynolds; Negro Mission, Lea Kallman; Central Girls' Club, Betsy Roberts and Barbara Varner; Scottish Rite Hospital, Frances Sattes and Andy Lowry; Girl Scouts, Jean Porter; and Sheltering Arms Day Nursery, Anne Corse.

ATHLETIC

Miss Glendora Boyce, Faculty Advisor for Athletic Association.

A.A. Officers: H. Talmadge, Treasurer; J. Nash, Secretary; C. Herman, President; B. Crapps, Vice-President.

Roosevelt State Park in Chipley, Georgia, was the site selected for the Athletic Association retreat. This association is composed of the entire student body and a Board, which directs all athletic activities throughout the year. The four major sports, hockey, swimming, basketball and softball, kept competition keen during the year, with the hockey championship won by the Juniors, swimming by the Freshmen, and basketball by the Sophomores. In addition to the swimming meet, Dolphin Club, under the direction of Grace Molineux, presented a water ballet, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Besides these major sports, the individual sports, tennis, archery, badminton, golf, horseback riding, and ping pong, were also in the spotlight. Tennis Singles Championship was won by a sophomore, Maria Harris.

A. A. Board: H. Hendry, News Reporter; J. Muller, Softball Manager; L. Florance, Freshman Representative; S. McConochie, Goodwill Ambassador; A. Boswell, Badminton Manager; C. Herman, President; C. Rudisill, Recorder; P. Lenhardt, Hockey Manager; L. Robert, Riding Manager; J. St. Clair, Publicity Manager; L. Hanna, Archery Manager; H. Talmadge, Treasurer; A. Blackshear, Swimming Manager; M. Woolfolk, Tennis Manager; R. Currie, Basketball Manager.

A.A. sponsors swimming meet . . .

For a second time senior Anne McKelvie won the Badminton Singles Championship and with her partner, senior Helen Hendry, again captured the Doubles Championship. As well as directing sports events, the association sponsored various projects — Lost and Found, a freshman square dance, A. S. C. sweat shirt and Blazer sales, and the meeting of freshmen on the first day of school. During the year A. A. created much interest in athletic and recreational programs on campus.

The purpose of Phi Beta Kappa is to foster the principles of friendship, morality, and literature. The Greek letters are the initials of the Greek motto, "Love of wisdom, the guide of life." By election to membership the Society recognizes the men and women devoted to intellectual pursuits in the liberal arts and sciences who have records of high attainment and scholarly achievement in these fields.

The Beta Chapter of Georgia of Phi Beta Kappa at Agnes Scott College was instituted on March 23, 1926. Active members are members of Phi Beta Kappa from both the administration and the academic departments. Each year senior students eligible for Phi Beta Kappa are elected members in course. Miss Harn and Mr. Stukes are charter members of the Beta Chapter of Georgia of Phi Beta Kappa.

High intellectual attainment has always been one of the basic ideals upon which the Agnes Scott ideals rest. An avowed purpose of both the faculty and the students is to promote and maintain the high ideal of scholarship which has been set in the past and of which the school is justly proud. Those students who, by their scholastic achievement warranted membership on the Honor Roll, were named Agnes Scott's representatives of the ideal of high intellectual attainment.

Mortar Board is an honorary society for seniors. Members are chosen in their junior year on the basis of their past and potential leadership, service, and scholarship as those who have most nearly fulfilled the fourfold

Agnes Scott ideal. This club occupies an important position in the Agnes Scott community. It helps in freshmen orientation in the fall and sponsors other activities throughout the year.

LECTURE ASSOCIATION

Margaret Benton, Lecture Association Chairman, and Miss Mell, Faculty Advisor.

Seated: Gay Pound, Miss Mell, Margaret Benton. Standing: Diana Carpenter, Ann Lane, Langhorne Sydnor, Carol Pike, Donalyn Moore, Kit Crosby.

The Lecture Association has a vital part in the intellectual growth of the college community. Nationally known lecturers are brought to the campus throughout the year and are available to the students at informal discussions. This year the season opened with "an Evening with Katherine Ann Porter", followed by an annual visit paid by Robert Frost. A third lecturer was Hanson Baldwin, Military Editor of The New York Times, speaking on "Security in the Atomic Age." The 1956-57 program was concluded with the visit of Harrison Salisbury, New York Times correspondent noted for his insights into the political, social, and economic situation behind the Iron Curtain.

Third row: Dr. Roberts, Grace Chao, Lib Geiger, Dot Rearick, Frances Patterson. Not pictured: June Fulmer, Eleanor Linn, and Lavonne Nalley.

Chi Beta Phi is an honorary scientific fraternity for undergraduates. Its purpose is to promote interest in science. At the beginning of the year new members were initiated and a banquet was held at the Plantation House. The program this year consisted of talks given by various members of the faculty about some phase of their scientific field.

Members: W. Abernethy, L. Ambrose, E. Ansley, M. Ansley, D. Bates, L. Bellamy, M. Bethea, A. Blackshear, B. Bryan, S. Campbell, Choon Hi Choi, N. Christian, L. Cole, M. Collins, K. Crosby, S. Anne Terry, Vice-President; Nancy Glasure, Recording Secretary; Kit Crosby, President; Lue Robert, Corresponding Secretary; and Louise Almand, Treasurer.

The Granddaughters' Club is composed of girls whose mothers or grandmothers went to Agnes Scott. The membership varies from year to year, depending on the number in the freshman class. It is primarily a social group, but it does work with the Alumnae Association in serving some of the needs on campus and in working with Alumnae groups in the greater Atlanta area.

Pi Alpha Phi, organized as the debating society at Agnes Scott in 1922, encourages clear thinking and promotes interest in current affairs. Through inter-club debates and discussions, members have opportunities to discuss current problems concerning school, national, and international affairs.

In winter quarter, Agnes Scott's annual All-Southern Inter-collegiate Debate Tournament was held. Eleven schools attended this debate managed by Genelle Breedlove. The subject of debate was "Resolved: That the United States Should Discontinue Direct Economic Aid to Foreign Countries." The Combined British Debate Team visited during winter quarter, also, and debated the humorous topic "Resolved: That Uncle Sam Is the Mother of the World."

Throughout the year, Pi Alpha Phi attended debates at Alabama, the University of South Carolina, and other schools where Marianne Gillis and Margaret Benton composed the affirmative team and Susan Riffe and Genelle Breedlove, the negative.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Frances Patterson, Chairman of Social Committee, and Kathy Cole Butler, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Social Committee, consisting of representatives elected from each class and from campus organizations, met weekly throughout the year. The primary purpose of Social Committee was to regulate and provide for social activities here on campus. A program of freshmen orientation started the year, and movies, Saturday night entertainment, a combo in the Hub, and Sunday coffees comprised a large part of Social Committee's activities. Rounding out the committee's program were miscellaneous activities in line with the club's purpose.

The 1956-57 Hub Committee was really directed by that benevolent despot Napoleon, the Hub Watchbird. Leaving to the committee such routine tasks as the purchase of ashtrays, table covers, cards, and the giving of a Do-It-Yourself Party in November, Napoleon kept his penetrating eye on the condition of the Hub, issuing Imperial decrees bearing his portrait. The Hub profited by his genial tyranny.

Blythe Posey, Vice-President; Lib Geiger, President; and Wardie Abernethy, Secretary-Treasurer.

Cotillion Club is an organization to promote social activities on campus. Early in February an important change was made in the club's organization. Cotillion joined with Social Committee to form the Social Council, which will co-ordinate the social functions on campus in the future. Sponsors for this year were Harriet Stovall, Miss Murphy, and Dr. and Mrs. Roberts.

The May Day Festival was produced by the May Day Committee and by Miss Eugenia Dozier in cooperation with the department of physical education, drama, art, and music. A sparkling scenario, devised by Nancy Kimmel and entitled "Negumi No-Yomeiri" (The Marriage of a Mouse), brought a fantasy of Old Japan to 20th Century Agnes Scott. Queen Cemele Miller reigned over the festivities.

BLACKFRIARS

Officers: Emiko Takeuchi, President; Deene Spivey, Treasurer; Nancy Kimmel, Vice-President; Marilyn Tribble, Stage Manager; Nellie Strickland, Secretary.

Blackfriars, the college dramatic club, was organized in 1915 under the leadership of Miss Frances K. Gooch. It promotes student interest and participation in acting and play production. Blackfriars high-lighted fall quarter with the production of This—The Theater, a presentation of outstanding scenes from six great plays. During fall and winter quarters the club heard several interesting people among whom was Mr. Phil Oshorn of Cook's Tours. It was also given the opportunity of participation in the filming the Radio Center TV movie, featuring Dr. McCain in the early days of Agnes Scott. Winter and spring quarters were devoted to work on Chalk Garden, given in April. At the same production, the Claude S. Bennett, Inc. Trophy was awarded to the member of Blackfriars who had done the best acting for the year.

MUSIC

Organ Guild: Standing: Charlotte Henderson, Mary Ann Donnell, Pegge Conine, Evangeline Lane, Virginia Anne Redhead, Nancy Turner, Pinky McCall, Peggy Wilson, Secretary. Seated: Louise Almand, Treasurer; Nancy Flagg, President. Mr. Martin, Advisor.

The Organ Guild is made up of student organists, and is a branch of the Georgia Chapter of the American Guild of Organists. This group meets weekly for the study of registration and organ literature and for discussions and performances by students and visiting organists. An annual visit to some of the great organs in the Atlanta area is one of the highlights of the year.

The theme of Music Club programs this year is Contemporary Performers in the world of piano, organ, violin, voice, cello, opera, and chamber music. The programs, led by students of applied music, include brief biographies of the artists and composers, and performances both on records and by music students themselves. Through Music Club we share our enjoyment and receive inspiration from the talents of successful artists.

ORCHESTRA PERSONNEL

Conductor: Mr. John Adams; Viola: Mrs. John Adams; French Horn: Margaret Collins; First Violin: Dor Rearick, Concertmistress; Paula Pilkenton, Bill Schell, Elaine Averitte, Karen Beall. Second Violin: Carol Promnitz, Carolyn Hoskins, Cynthia Grant, Veil Deadwyler. Piano: Linda Jones; Cello: Pinky McCall; Flute: Marion Walton, Edith Tritton. Clarinet: Jo Ann Beasley, Nancy Flagg.

The purpose of the Agnes Scott orchestra is twofold: it develops an understanding for ensemble work and it affords an opportunity for instrumentalists to develop skill in orchestral technique. The orchestra supports two main projects: it accompanies for plays and offers background music for miscellaneous activities on campus.

CLUBS

The Glee Club members are chosen by audition during the fall, with the tryouts open to all students. Miss Roxie Hagopian directs the group which meets bi-weekly. During the year the club is very active, with this year's highlights being its joint concert with Princeton University in the spring. In addition, it presented a program at Decatur Presbyterian Church and sang in the Atlanta Art Association Music Salon Series. The schedule was climaxed with the traditional commencement performances.

Officers: Nancy Alexander, Publicity; Sylvia Ray, Librarian; Trudy Florrid, Treasurer; Billie Rainey, President; Rosalyn Warren, Vice-President; Anne Corse, Secretary; Annette Teague, Librarian.

Soprano: Joan Alexander, Emasue Alford, Karen Beall, Celia Crook, Sissy Daniel, Trudy Florrid, Pat Gover, Mary Hammond, Martha Holmes, Eleanor Lee, Helen Maddox, Susie Miller, Liza Morris, Sylvia Ray, Kay Richards, Frances Shepard, Rosalyn Warren, Kay Weber, Susie White. Second soprano: Nancy Christian, Betty Cline, Phyllis Cox, Martha Davis, Ethel Durant, Anne Eyler, Nancy Flagg, Anne McWhorter, Carol Pike, Janice Powell, Alice Prather, Billie Rainey, Marty Slife, Annette Teague. Alto: Nancy Alexander, Susan Campbell, Anne Corse, Sally Fuller, Jo Hathaway, Audrey Johnson, Marian McCall, Mary Jane Pickens, Mary Clayton Bryan, Lucy Cole, Mary Jo Cowart, Anne Lowrie Fraser, Keo Keller, Hazel-Thomas King, Sara Lu Persinger, Nain Stieglitz.

B.O.Z.

B.O.Z. is the creative writing club for upperclassmen — the “big sister” to Folio, with the exception that B.O.Z. members write only prose. Meetings are held twice a quarter, and at that time the girls read their short stories, character sketches, or essays so that they may be criticized by the other members. Many of the “results” of these meetings are published in the Aurora.

FOLIO

Folio is the organization which stimulates creative writing among freshmen and gives them an opportunity to share their work with others. The members are selected by try-outs, and at the close of the year they publish a magazine, Folio, containing selected material which they have written.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

Lea Kallman, Vice President; Grace Chao, President; Mildred Ling, Secretary-Treasurer; Runita McCurdy, Project Chairman; Barbara Varner, Publicity Chairman. Not pictured: Betty Sue Kennedy, Literary Chairman.

The International Relations Club has as its purpose the stimulation of campus interest in world affairs. Delegations were sent to conferences such as CCUN and the UN Model Assembly, and well-informed speakers visited the club. The group also circulated news questionnaires to heighten an awareness of international activity.

Bible Club is composed of students who are interested in learning more about the Bible and related topics in order to supplement their classroom studies. The organization aims to provide better Christian leadership. Many meetings are devoted to the sharing of research by individual members and to discussions of selected portions of the Bible.

Caroline Phelan, Vice-President; Shirley Spackman, President; Patti Forrest, Secretary-Treasurer.

The monthly meetings of Agnes Scott's "mademoiselles" provide an opportunity for students to study and enjoy French conversation, literature, and culture. Students and faculty participate in stimulating and interesting programs presenting various aspects of French life. Meetings conducted solely in French increase proficiency as well as interest in the language.

The monthly meetings of the Spanish Club aim to stimulate understanding of the Spanish language, literature, and culture. Carefully selected guest speakers, song sessions with Señora Maria Ortega, and parties help the members to achieve proficiency in the language.

The Aurora, Agnes Scott's magazine for creative literary expression, is printed at the end of each school quarter. It has been published for the last sixty-five years. The issues of this year included short stories, book reviews, poetry, character sketches, and plays from contributors of all four classes. The magazine cover and illustrations provided opportunities for art students to have their work recognized and enjoyed. The Aurora has received top ratings from national organizations within recent years.

Keeping the presses rolling while reporting on campus activities was the job of this year's staff of "The Agnes Scott News". Such stories as the dedication of Walters Hall, the campus mock election and visits of outstanding lecturers made headlines.

Reporters remember deadlines just barely made; the photographer recalls the best shot of the year she thought she took, only to find a "headless horseman" in the negative. The editors chuckle now over those "Monday night blues" when all headlines turned out with alliteration or onomatopoeia.

Working behind the scenes, but just as vital to the weekly routine were members of the business staff, who folded, filed, and fed newspapers into mailboxes. Miles of tramping brought tired feet to faithful business-staffers, but also brought those inches of advertising so essential to the layouts.

MARY OATES, Editor-in-Chief

MARIANNE DUNCAN, Associate and Art Editor

Plans for the 1957 Silhouette began after elections last spring, but the summer vacation brought surprises and changes. Mary took charge of the staff in September and after sending delegates to conventions in order to gain new ideas, the group settled down for a lot of hard work. Planning meetings of the whole staff followed up by individual staff meetings made an effective working scheme for the year. The business staff under the direction of Emily sought ads from various firms in this area.

A professional photographer attended many school functions to catch memorable scenes, but our own staff photographers turned in some good shots of everyday campus life which no outsider could have found.

Of course there was fun involved in watching the new creation take shape. Marianne's art work particularly made work on the "dummy" a pleasure. After sorting through scads of pictures, reams of copy, and two-hundred pages of layouts, the editors finally saw the Silhouette make its weary way to the printers. They had put their best efforts into this annual.

The 1956 Hockey Season, characterized by stiff competition and excellent teams, proved to be one of the most exciting in recent years. Under the general management of Pat Lenhardt, the shortened season provided many exciting moments for both players and spectators. Repeating their '55 performance, the Junior team under the leadership of Becky Barlow emerged victorious in team competition. They were followed closely by the Freshman team managed by Bob Florance. The Freshman team was the pleasant surprise of the season. They provided stiff competition for all comers.

Their vastly improved performance figured heavily toward the end of the season in determining which team would be victorious. The game Sophomore team, managed by Kay Weber, challenged the Juniors constantly for first place only to fall behind the Freshmen in rating after the last game. The Seniors, managed by Sheila MacConochie, turned in the best performance of their college career. There was not an easily won game all season. Outstanding players were honored with selection to the varsity and Sheila MacConochie was chosen to receive the sportsmanship award.

Lady Luck sided with the Sophomores in the 1957 Basketball Season to make a final score of 35-24 in a playoff game with the Juniors. Before this climax, the two teams had been tied for first place with four wins and one tie each. Coming in third with three wins, the Freshmen added to the stiff competition in the race for the championship. Although the Seniors didn't win a game, they had a lot of fun playing and came in with a fourth place.

This year for the first time, games were played between three and four o'clock for anyone interested in participating. Everyone seemed to have a good time, and they are looking forward to doing it again next year.

SOFTBALL

Juniors: J. Sawyer, D. Carpenter, J. Slade, C. Tinkler, H. Ellis, B. Posey, B. Barlow, M. Woolfolk, S. McDonald, P. Stewart, J. Nash, M. Meyer.

Bats, balls, gloves, and sunny weather drew Scotties to the softball field to play and to observe the popular spring sport. Jorie Muller co-ordinated the teams to finish a full schedule of stiff competition between the classes. Highlighting the season was the faculty-varsity game, when our female and male professors exhibited their skill in batting, pitching, and catching against our best student players.

Sophomores: M. Moore, M. Walton, K. Weber, W. Dendy, L. Puckett, L. Davis, J. Muller, R. Currie.

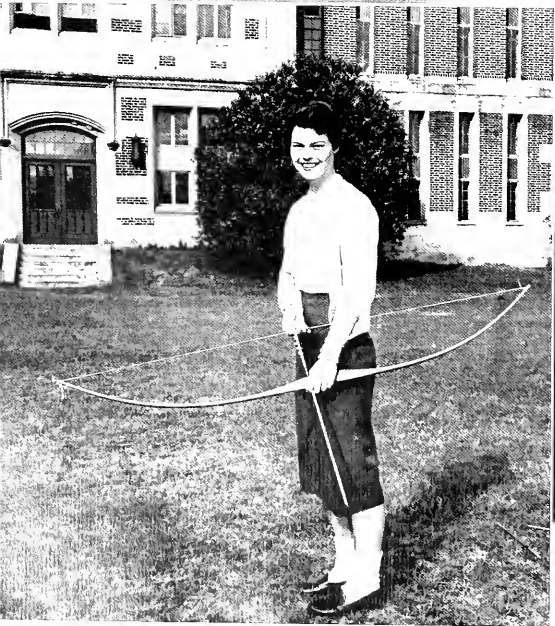

Seniors: A. Terry, A. Whitfield, J. Porter, C. Herman, S. Burns, P. Smith, A. McKelvie, S. MacConochie, M. Hill.

MINOR SPORTS

V. A. and Martha watch Ann Norris' technique.

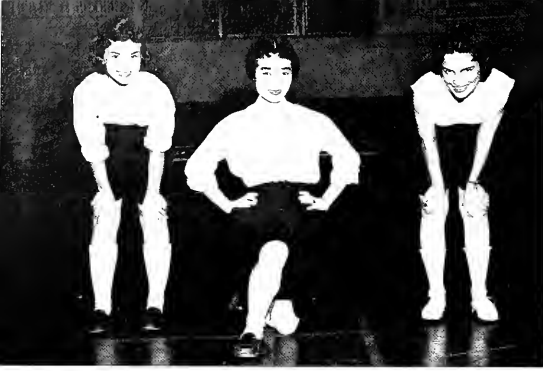

Although called minor sports, these sports are not really in any sense of the word minor. Under the able assistance of A.A. managers many tournaments were planned. Tennis manager Margaret Woolfolk and Badminton manager Archer Boswell sponsored a Singles and a Doubles Tournament which proved to be quite successful. Libby Hanna, Archery manager, planned many grab bag tournaments and cake shoots along with a Telegraphic Tournament at the end of Spring quarter. A.A. Golf manager Ann Norris Shires spent many pleasant afternoons on the golf course with other interested golfers keeping the greens in shape. All of these minor sports made up a large part of the sports program.

CHEERLEADERS

“Here, here, where? Where? We want a goal over there” is one of the yells of the cheerleaders as they help their classes cheer their teams in hockey, basketball, softball and other activities that involve class competition. The cheerleaders, selected by their classes in the fall, help the spirit chairman to promote class and school spirit throughout the year.

M. Ansley, E. Acree—Freshmen.

WEARERS OF THE LETTER

With a total of 80 points, acquired through participating in individual and team sports, serving on the Athletic Board, and officiating at games, a student is eligible for an Agnes Scott letter. The letter signifies many hours of work in various athletic activities.

E. Stockton, M. Cowart, L. Rigdon—Juniors.

DANCING

Folk dancing under the instruction of Miss Llewellyn Wilburn and Mrs. Harriet Lapp is one of the most popular phases of our Physical Education program. Many dances of foreign origin as well as those of our own country add interesting variety to a lively course.

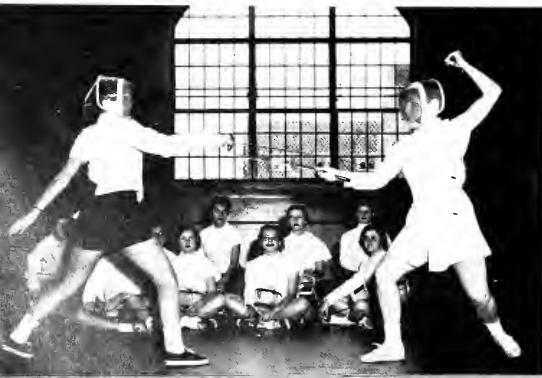

Tumbling and fencing are two of the newest sports that we have on campus and they are enjoyed by many. Under the excellent supervision of Miss Glendora Boyce and Miss Kate McKemie exhibitions were presented at the end of the season. Our talented tumblers can do forward rolls, dives, handstands, and handsprings. Even though muscles do ache for a while after the first attempts to tumble, the girls return with eager anticipation for the next lesson. Surely our Scotties can outface the best of them. Their technique and strategy are really something to watch. These two minor sports attract many every Winter quarter.

FENCING

TUMBLING

RIDING

Whether her choice was a horse or a bicycle, a Scottie found fun and exercise in riding. The crowded car from the Vogt's Riding Academy testified to the growing popularity of horseback riding. All three quarters saw the horsey set guiding their mounts over trails and jumps. The horses have made a successful comeback to Agnes Scott.

The long hoarded Blue Horses have been transformed into beautiful English bicycles. Sunny afternoons found the rack in the basement of Campbell empty. What better sign could there be of the pleasures from bicycling.

SWIMMING

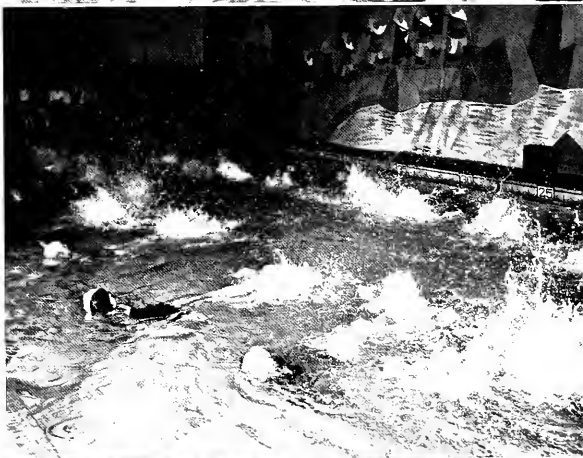

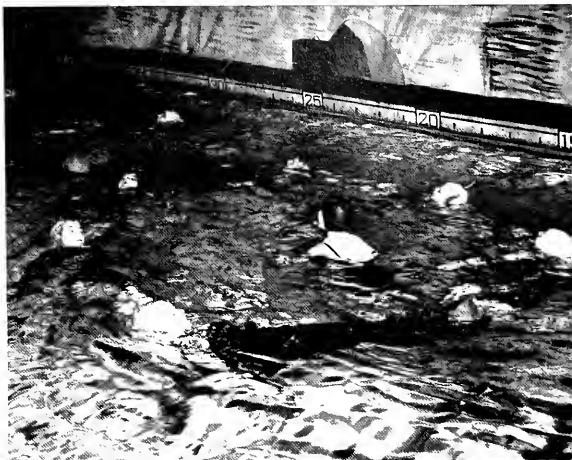

The swimming meet and Halloween arrived together, and witches were seen paddling frantically in the gym pool. All four classes entered enthusiastically into races and contests of speed and skill, and into races in which only a good dog paddle mattered. Competition was keen, but the Class of 1960 emerged victorious.

DOLPHIN CLUB

The Dolphin Club was one of the most active clubs on campus this year. Under the very able direction of Miss Glendora Boyce, Dolphin Club presented "The Magic Mirror", a water ballet interpretation of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Both nights the house was packed to see a beautifully finished performance. The pageant included duets and group performances, both marked by unusual dexterity and skill. The backdrop featuring the seven dwarfs was very artistically done by Anne Akerman and her committee, who should receive much recognition for their work. The lights were skillfully worked by Anne Whitfield; Nancy Christian and her committee did an excellent job with the costumes. Grace Molineaux, president of Dolphin Club, is indeed to be commended on the performance. After the water pageant the busy Dolphins were looking for something new to do. They decided to teach swimming to the crippled children at Emory. This they enjoyed because it gave them a chance to do something for others. Dolphin Club should indeed be proud of their work this year.

DANCE GROUP

A group of talented students who make up an important creative part of the Physical Education program work weekly on modern and classical ballet under the direction of Miss Eugenie Dozier. Annually their graceful and artful interpretations are displayed in a special production for the whole campus community. This year, headed by Carlanna Lindamood, the group produced a well-polished one act ballet—"Les Saisons", which demonstrated talent in choreography, staging, and costuming as well as expressive interpretation.

BLACK CAT DAY

"WE ARE SIAMESE, IF YOU PLEASE," sing Louise and Sheila, two Siamese cats who are returning from an ambassadorial good-will tour of the U. S. They tell of how they went to the east looking for the best spirit . . .

But the Juniors disappointed them with kleptomaniac Frances, hypochondriac Susan, and other unduly sophisticated classmates. So the ambassadors tried the north . . .

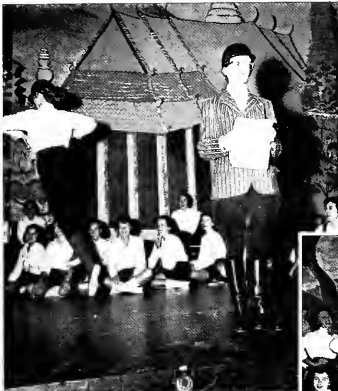

At the North Pole, they found the Sophomore's presidential candidates, Anti-Freeze Betty and Icicle Anita, battling it out. Staying only long enough to see Nancy "Elvis Presley" Turner get elected, they hurried on . . .

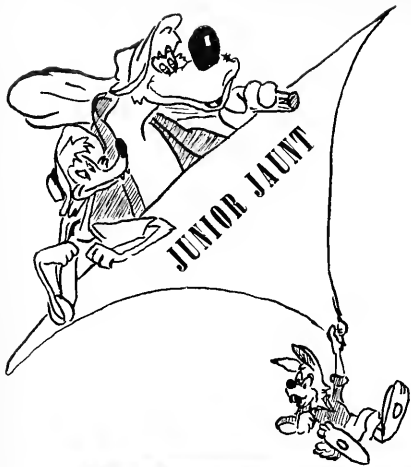

They were just in time to see Dr. Dunninger Calder display his marvelous mental abilities and to get the inside glimpse of dignified faculty members in an old-fashioned movie-house, before they went on to the west . . .

Here they found the Seniors had two of the "orneriest" men in the west, Angeline and Gilbert. But the Saloon Singers calmed things off long enough so that Penny "President Alston" Smith could give just three important points. The cats at last came to the south . . .

At ASC they found, at the Freshmen talent show, just the spirit they were looking for. So the Sophomore president, Lila McGeachy, gave the Freshman chairman, Dot Martin, a real live black cat, to officially welcome the Freshman class to Agnes Scott.

"Yessuh, Uncle Remus, that Junior Jaunt what they had at Agnes Scott on January 19th was REALLY SOMPIN'!! They raised $1,700 for their charities and brought the old South right to Decatur with their production, DIXIERAMA."

The cotton bolls and boll weevils were there . . .

The old show boat and the minstrel dance . . .

The gals danced before the ball in their pantaloons and then put on their long dresses.

Even Br'r Rabbit tried to dance like Scarlett O'Hara for Br'r Bear and Br'r Fox.

They practically refought the whole civil war . . .

The Sophomores had fearless General Dudley and the loudest rebel yell south of the Mason-Dixon line.

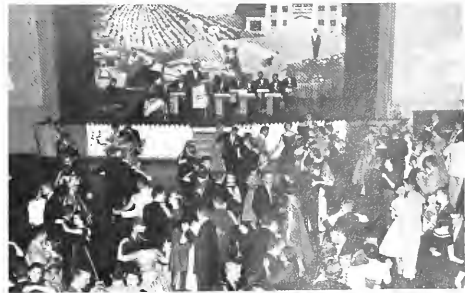

The Seniors needed more soldiers; they recruited Lukey but left Paw Smith on the farm.

The Freshmen war orphans looked like they were having a pretty rough time, but they were the victors in the long run because their skit took first place.

Then everyone forgot about fighting and had a ball themselves.

DEDICATION OF FRANCES WINSHIP WALTERS HALL

In the summer of 1955, the first work was begun on the new Frances Winship Walters Dormitory at Agnes Scott. Despite a wet winter and a steel strike, it was completed in the summer of 1956 in time to welcome the sophomores back to school. The building of this beautiful $700,000 dormitory was made possible through the four and a half million dollar legacy of Mrs. Frances Winship Walters, who passed away on November 14, 1954. On Wednesday, September 26, 1956, Walters Hall was officially dedicated at a service held in Gaines Auditorium. President Emeritus James Ross McCain delivered the dedicatory address.

At the dedication service, Dr. Alston received the key to Walters Hall from George W. Woodruff, vice chairman of the Agnes Scott College Board of Trustees.

Erected on the former site of the old science hall, Walters Hall houses 145 students. It has three floors devoted to dormitory space and a ground floor used for recreation space. This dorm, with its modern facilities, recreation and study rooms, buzzer system, laundry rooms and kitchenettes, is truly the "palace" its occupants claim that it is.

BEAUTIES

To judge the beauties of Agnes Scott, we selected a well-known name—that of Jesse James.

The annual staff of the West Point yearbook, the Howitzer, headed by business manager Jesse H. James, were our able judges this year. They found the job a pleasant one and wrote, "Give our best to the winners, and tell them that we think they are charming young ladies. It is too bad that so great a distance separates our schools, but we hope to have an opportunity to meet these girls. Thank you for the honor of selecting us as judges. Sincerely yours, Jesse H. James."

SUPPRESSED DESIRES DAY

On February 21, the Student Body gave vent to many heretofore suppressed desires as the campus "let down its hair" and celebrated its annual Suppressed Desires Day. Ringing the fire alarm, a breathtaking ride down the halls of the Science Building on Dr. Calder's motor scooter, and a clever chapel program given by "exec" on the evolution of the social order at ASC were some of the activities which were unsuppressed.

May Queen, Cemele Miller.

On May 16th, Miss Cemele Miller of Monroe, Georgia, was crowned Queen of the May. With her court she witnessed the pageant, "Nezumi No Yomeiri" or "The Marriage of a Mouse." A Japanese folk tale by Nancy Kimmel and starring Emiko Takeuchi, the story tells of a beautiful young mouse and her parents' search for the most powerful person in the world to be her husband. They visited the sun, cloud, wind, and wall (each of whom claimed that the next was more powerful), before they found that their young neighbor mouse, Chusuke, could chew a hole in the wall and so was the most powerful of all. The joyous wedding of the two brought May Day to a grand finale.

SENIOR OPERA

Hansel DeFord and Gretel Townsend meet in the woods.

On May 11th, the "La Scotta Opera Company," otherwise known as the Senior Class of 1957, produced the annual senior opera, this year entitled "Babes in the Woods." This production was based on the story of "Hansel and Gretel," but it incorporated a new twist into the witch and broom and gingerbread angle. The music came from varied sources, ranging from "Faust" to "My Fair Lady," and the operatic rendition of the songs was judged by critics as superb.

Martha Riggins appeared as Herr Anheuser and Dannie Reynolds as Herr Busch. Margie DeFord took the role of Hansel and Sara Townsend played Gretel; they were lovers instead of the conventional brother and sister. Curly Jones was a most beguiling witch, while the Fourteen Angels were the very soul of innocence.

As the curtain rang down on the last production the Class of 1957 would ever produce in Gaines Auditorium, and as the last curtain calls were made, the audience showed their hearty approval of the opera and the whole class by a great round of applause.

GOD OF THE MARCHING CENTURIES

God of the marching centuries, Lord of the passing
years,

Leading a people's victories, sharing a people's tears,—

Seal us as now we worship Thee, here on this moment's height;

Star of the way our fathers found, be still our guiding
Light.

Thou art the strength of all the past; teach us to mark it well;

Ours is the happy lot of those who in Thy shadow dwell.

Teach us to comprehend with saints, how Thou dost lead Thine own,

Till, thro' the gates of golden grace, we meet before
Thy throne.

Thankfully now we courage take, humbly we pledge our all,

If we may service find with Thee, if we may hear
Thy call;

Here where we see our brother's need, here where he must not die,—

There we shall find Thy fellowship and will not pass
Thee by.

God of the marching centuries, Lord of the passing
years,

Leading a people's victories, sharing a people's tears,—

Seal us as now we worship Thee, here on this moment's height;—

Star of the way our fathers found, be still our guiding
Light.

The Last Word:

It's here at last — the 1957 Silhouette, after months of drawing layouts, cropping and proportioning pictures, struggling with camera-shy people, rescuing photos from dogs, writing and rewriting and rewriting copy, giving directions from the infirmary window, and searching for that picture that we just knew had been taken. We hope you like our 200 pages that have come together by the diligence of the 1957 Silhouette staff, who pulled hair and lost sleep over the demands of the slave-driving editor. Thanks go especially to Marianne, whose husband learned to keep house in the process, and to Emily, who scraped up the funds to finance her extravagant editor. The staff is also grateful to those not officially among its members who contributed of their time and talents to get the annual to press. We would especially like to thank the club secretaries, who gave us the facts about their organizations; Miss Huper, who helped us with the class section; Mr. Young of Foote and Davies, who patiently gave us direction and encouragement; and Dr. Alston, who shared all our worries and helped us with our difficulties. We have dared to make some changes in type and layout in an attempt to be artistic in our annual. In spite of all and by the aid of all, you have your 1957 Silhouette, but don't expect to find us for we plan to sleep all summer.

THE INDEPENDENT COLLEGE

The independent college belongs to those who believe in it. It can have no other ownership.

It has flourished through the centuries because every generation raises up people who understand its power for good.

Rooted in this faith, steadfast, humane, the independent college abides as a citadel of the unfettered mind and spirit.
